

GUZZILLA HEADS FOR EUROPE

The ranks of demolition attachment suppliers is about to be swelled with the news that Netherlands-based ACDE Europe has been awarded European import rights for the Guzzilla range from Japanese manufacturer Taguchi.

Although it is entering a mature and highly competitive market, ACDE claims that the Guzzilla line-up stands out for its wide jaw opening and light weight characteristics. Furthermore, the timing of the venture coincides neatly with the Bauma exhibition at which ACDE will unveil its Beillite hydraulic breaker line for the European market.
